

Travel Documents Required

Imagine that you are Eastern European and you want to travel and enter the US. You get on the plane and arrive at the JFK airport in New York. As you deplane and stand in line for the next customs/immigration officer to stamp your passport, you discover that you don't have it.

Since you don't have your passport, you will be denied entry into the US. You are now stuck in limbo. Where you can go and what you can do is highly restricted. Your only hope is that you can get onto a plane and return home. You've lost the cost of a ticket, may have charges against your credit card for missed reservations and incidentals, and your money has run out so that you cannot even pay a taxi driver when you arrive back in your country. In other words you have been totally screwed out of what could have been a great vacation, and out of the money that could have been used for your vacation.

Scenarios like this happen daily at international airports around the country. Without a passport you cannot legally enter. Reminiscent of the USSR and current socialist controlled countries, not only is identification cards required but you must also have proper travel documents. Without the proper documents you cannot travel freely in China, North Korea, certain African countries, most Middle Eastern countries, Cuba, Venezuela, etc. In all of these countries, you also have to surrender your passport or identification documents to hotel clerks when you check into a hotel, and as you travel from one check point to another, you must show proper documentation. Your travel is "automatically" reported to authorities.

While passport requirements are required at points of entry along our borders, seaports, and airports, they are increasingly being required in our own back yards. The Biden administration, liberals, and leftists don't care if you have a passport to enter our country. But once you are in the country, they are issuing edicts requiring them.

Whether you realize it or not, free travel within our nation is being restricted by government and business. You cannot freely travel and shop in New York City unless you have the proper travel documents.

New York City, Los Angeles, San Francisco, and New Orleans now require vaccine passports to go into any restaurant, bar, nightclub, gym, even retail stores. Las Vegas, is not far behind, requires proof of vaccination to enter concerts, conventions, and sport venues.

While current vaccination cards do not have QR codes, it will not be long before they do. QR codes allow for quick scanning using smart phones to show a person's vaccination card. One teenager has already had his QR coded image tattooed on his arm in case he left the card at home. No doubt others will follow with their own tattoos.

And probably in the not too distant future the tattoos will become replacement vaccine cards, scanned by government and business.

In other words, the QR codes will become your passport to receive goods and services. If you don't have them or a card, you will be denied goods and services. As of now, government and business has restricted this to in-person visits. But mark these words, they will sooner or later be applied to all online services and shopping.

This voluntary tattooing or marking of oneself may well be the beginning of the End Times described in the Bible. In the last days you will either have the Seal of God or the Mark of the beast.

It certainly seems that Revelation 13:17 describes what is happening today in our government, military, schools, and businesses. Whether applicable or not it is not for me to say for sure, it's something for you to think about.
